What is the 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence Campaign?

The 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence Campaign is an international campaign with over 5,167 participating organizations from more than 187 countries.

The dates November 25 - International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women - and December 10 - International Human Rights Day - symbolically link violence against women and human rights and emphasize that such violence is a violation of human rights.

The 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-Based Violence Campaign has been used as an organizing strategy by individuals and groups around the world to call for the elimination of all forms of violence against women.

Join the Campaign in using social media as a way to raise awareness about gender-based violence and militarism, and pressing issues such as state violence, domestic violence and small arms, sexual violence during and after conflict, as well as intersecting issues of economic and social rights.

Using Social Media to End Gender-Based Violence:

- Read, comment and share on activists' blogs each day of the 16 Days Campaign
- Submit event(s) to the 16 Days International Campaign Calendar of Activities
- Share what you're doing to address and end gender-based violence on Twitter and Facebook. Let us know by using @16DaysCampaign!
- Post the 16 Days logo on your homepage and link to <http://16dayscwgl.rutgers.edu>
- Change your profile picture, cover picture, etc., to the 16 Days logo and share with us @16DaysCampaign
- Follow @16DaysCampaign for the "Question of the Day": answer, re-tweet, or post your own question!

Friends: Let's continue to work together, raise our voices, and share our strength and conviction in a world free of gender-based violence, and one built on positive peace and human rights principles! Join the 16 Days Campaign!
