15 Unmet Requests for Services

Many programs reported a critical shortage of funds and staff to assist victims in need of services, such as emergency shelter, housing, transportation, childcare, and legal representation. Of these unmet requests, 9 (60%) were from victims seeking emergency shelter or transitional housing.

Programs were unable to provide services for many reasons, as reported below.

- 36% reported not enough funding for needed programs and services.
- 27% reported not enough staff.
- 27% reported not enough specialized services.
- 9% reported no available beds or funding for hotels.
- 9% reported limited funding for translators, bilingual staff, or accessible equipment.

"More victims request shelter than we have beds available. We need more programs to help victims, we need to hold abusers accountable, and we need more education about domestic violence."

"Victims of domestic violence are losing custody of their children to their abusers because they can't afford an attorney. Limited financial and housing resources also affect their ability to provide for their children, which is another reason why abusers get custody."
