

Changes We Seek in the World

Compassionate communities with social equity and collective liberation, where we see our own and each other's full humanity and everyone has the ability to thrive and reach their full potential. Our dominant social narrative is one of interdependence, resilience, and regeneration.

North Star Liberation for the Last Girl

Our Context

Multiple governmental, nongovernmental and global systems intersect with our focus of change

Our Focus

Girls and women and people who are gender oppressed. Youth and young adults.

Our Issue

Gender violence fueled by multiple, intersecting systemic oppressions

Our Values

Compassion

We see each other's full humanity with love and kindness, and intentionally turn toward others to end oppression and violence.

Interconnection

We understand our interdependence and the importance of authentic mutual relationships with one another and our earth.

Lead Boldly

We cultivate an appetite for risk-taking, openness to possibilities, and going into the unknown.

Social Equity

We stand with marginalized communities to amplify voices, lived experiences, and histories to achieve shared power and an equitable distribution of resources.

Collective Liberation

We move forward together knowing our mutual humanity is connected to the liberation of the most marginalized person in our community, the last girl.

While the story is that Idaho is conservative and intolerant, there is danger in a single story – we are also forward thinking and see how we are more alike than different.

Culture of domination, exploitation, and extraction is manifested in multiple, intersecting systemic oppressions that create the conditions for gender violence

Program and organizational membership are heterogenous, serve diverse populations, and are essential partners

Current social, economic, and ecological disruption provides an opportunity for bold social change

Center Solutions on the Last Girl → Build Capacity in Prevention & Response → Create Social Change

