

WomensLaw at a Glance: 2023 National Updates

WomensLaw.org offers plain-language legal information for 54 states and territories, federal legal information, and non-legal information related to domestic violence. To provide the most updated information to survivors, their loved ones, and the professionals who help them, the WomensLaw team reviewed amendments to 501 statutes and added 454 new statutes in 2023. Based largely upon these new and amended statutes, we created 216 new questions & responses and revised an additional 402 existing questions & responses on WomensLaw.org. We also translated more than 645 pieces of content into Spanish, 7 pieces into English and, for the first time, 2 into Korean. In our Places that Help section, we added 98 new state-specific and national resources and revised 727 existing ones.

Here are the top four additions to WomensLaw.org that are not specific to any state. Please visit our What's New page to learn about all of our legal and non-legal updates and additions in 2023.

1 "How To" Videos Created

We created a new section called How to Use Our Website that features short videos demonstrating how to browse WomensLaw.org, create an account on our Email Hotline, and schedule a live chat with a WomensLaw attorney.

2 Quick Guides Created in Korean

In collaboration with Korean American Family Services, we developed our first set of Korean "quick guides" on divorce and custody basics. The guides are also available in English and Spanish.

3 Male Victims

WomensLaw serves and supports all survivors, no matter their sex or gender. To better serve male victims of abuse, we completely revised the Male Victims section in our Abuse in Specific Communities page. We hope this helps these victims feel heard and supported.

4 Cyberflashing

We revised our Abuse Using Technology section to explain a recently recognized form of technology abuse, cyberflashing, which is when someone sends an unwanted sexual photo or video.
