

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE COUNTS REPORT TEXAS SUMMARY

On September 10, 2025, 86 out of 93 (92%) identified domestic violence programs in Texas participated in NNEDV's Domestic Violence Counts Survey: a one-day, unduplicated count of adults and children seeking domestic violence services. Participating programs shared the following figures about the services they provided during the 24-hour survey period.

8,933 Victims Served

6,239 adults and children found refuge in emergency shelters, transitional housing, hotels, motels, or other housing provided by local programs.

2,694 adults and children received non-residential supportive services like transportation, housing support, legal support, therapy, and more.

1,848 Hotline Contacts Received

Programs' hotlines received 1,848 contacts, averaging 77 contacts per hour. Domestic violence hotlines are lifelines for victims, providing support, information, safety planning, and resources via phone, chat, text, email, and more.

2,027 People Educated

Programs provided 51 educational sessions and trainings to 2,027 members of the public, addressing topics like domestic violence prevention and early intervention. Community education is essential to raising awareness and promoting resources.

1,957 Unmet Requests for Services

Programs were unable to meet 1,957 requests for help because they lacked sufficient resources, funding, and/or staffing. Approximately 28% of these unmet requests were for emergency shelter, hotels, motels, transitional housing, and other housing.

✘ "Domestic violence programs don't just save lives; they rebuild them. But, too often, they are stretched beyond capacity, forced to turn survivors away, operate with minimal staff, outdated facilities, and long waitlists. When we invest in programs, we invest in safer families, healthier communities, and a future free from violence. Survivors cannot wait. They are counting on us." - Texas advocate
